This book is produced using paper that is made from wood grown in managed, sustainable forests. It is natural, renewable and recyclable. The logging and manufacturing processes conform to the environmental regulations of the country of origin.

If you want to practise and develop your knowledge of English vocabulary for Business and Administration, you will find that the exercises in this book will help you. They are particularly useful if:

- You work, or are planning to work, in or around an English-speaking business environment.
- Your work brings you into regular contact with English-speaking business people.
- You are planning to take a Business English examination such as BEC Vantage / Higher, TOEIC, or one of the LCCI (London Chamber of Commerce and Industry) International Qualifications, especially 2nd, 3rd or 4th level Business.
- You do not work directly in Business and Administration, but your job requires you to have a working knowledge of common business words and expressions.

If you want to make the most of the exercises in the book, you should note the following:

- This is not a course book, and you do not need to work through it 'mechanically' from beginning to end. It is better to choose areas that you are unfamiliar with, or areas that you feel are of specific interest or importance to you.
- Write down new words and expressions that you learn. Develop your own personal vocabulary 'bank' in a notebook or file. Review these words and expressions on a regular basis so that they become a part of your 'productive' vocabulary.
- Use a good general-English dictionary and a good business-English dictionary to check the meanings of new words and expressions (but try to do the exercises first before looking in the dictionary). Many of the examples in this book have been taken from the Macmillan English Dictionary (ISBN 978-0-333-96847-5) and the A&C Black Dictionary of Business 4th edition (ISBN 978-0-713-67918-2).
- The exercises in this book either focus on general business vocabulary (for example, phrasal verbs, formal words, words with similar meanings, etc) or topic-specific business vocabulary (for example, sales and marketing, recruitment, dispute resolution, etc). However, you should be aware that not all of the vocabulary is exclusive to business and administration, and not all of the topic-specific vocabulary is exclusive to that particular topic. For example, 'commission' appears in the section on Earnings, rewards and benefits, but it could also be applied to Sales and marketing.
- The key at the back of the book not only has answers for all of the exercises, but also provides you with other relevant information. For example, it gives you alternative answers, provides more words and expressions that are not featured in the exercises themselves, explains what some of the words and expressions mean, and elaborates on some of the topic areas
- The book does not contain every single word or expression that you are likely to meet or to need. You should therefore try to develop your vocabulary further by reading from a variety of other resources, such as newspapers, magazines, journals and books. As a reference source, the author particularly recommends Business – The Ultimate Resource, published by A&C Black (ISBN 978-0-713-67509-2).

We hope that you enjoy doing the exercises in this book, and that they help you to practise and develop the Business and Administration vocabulary that you need.

Appraisals, training and staff development

Exercise 1: Look at the common employee appraisal questions in 1 – 28, and complete each one with a word from the box. These words can be found by reading from left to right and from right to left in the direction of the arrows (but they are not in the same order as the sentences they complete). Write your answers in the spaces on the right. The letter in the bold space in one word should be the same as the letter in the shaded space in the next word. Note that in some sentences there is more than one possible answer, but only one will fit into the space on the right. The first one has been done for you.

1. This company is committed to helping its employees learn about their jobs and develop their skills for the whole period they are working here, and not just at the beginning of their contract. We run regular courses and workshops in order to achieve this, both on and outside the company premises.

2. Our employees have to deal with a lot of difficult situations, and they often come in contact with people who can be difficult to work with and do business with. We train them to have more confidence in themselves so that they can deal effectively with any problems and difficulties they encounter.

3. We believe that the best way of learning a skill is through practice. We don't waste time on courses and workshops. We show the employee his duties, give him an outline of how the company operates, and then we just say 'Get on with it, and good luck'. It's a remarkably effective method.

4. It's very important that our employees develop skills in leadership, problem solving, decision-making and interpersonal communication. The best way to achieve this is to get them involved in group games and physically demanding outdoor activities like sailing and climbing. These also help to build team spirit.

5. When we promote somebody to a management position, the first thing we do is to give them a lot of typical management paperwork and tell them to deal with it. We set them a time limit for this, and monitor them carefully to see how they get on. We then review their performance and show them where they went right or wrong.

6. Our company understands how important it is that our employees work well together in order for the company to be effective. Our training sessions are designed to instil co-operation and solidarity in a group of employees who have to work together.

7. It is our company policy to make sure that our employees know how all the jobs in the company work, not just their own. We find the best way of doing this is to move them from job to job and department to department. They meet colleagues who they might not normally meet, and learn about their jobs and how they operate.

8. New employees in our company need to learn about our products and how they work, how the distribution system operates, how to deal with both suppliers and customers and how to handle complaints. They also study trade and retail laws, and are accompanied on their first customer visits by their trainer.

9. I've been interested in photography since I was very young, so when I finished school I started learning how to be a photographer. I spend my week working with a professional, who teaches me about all the different aspects of the job. At the same time, I receive training in areas such as numeracy, problem-solving and interpersonal skills.

10. First of all I was given a tour of the factory and then I was introduced to my colleagues and was given an outline of the company and its products. After that I was guided through the company's code of practice, taken to my department and shown my duties.

11. My company can't hold training workshops in the office because we don't have enough space, and of course while we are learning, we aren't actually making money, so the company feels it wouldn't be making the best use of its employees. Instead, they send us to a college in the evening where we develop our skills and knowledge.

12. This company believes that personal development and training should be more flexible. As a result, we have developed a system of flexible training courses that a trainee or employee can start at any time, and which does not require a teacher.

13. Once a year we look at the different skills and abilities of our staff, and we decide if they are enough to help the company fulfil its aims and operate effectively. We then develop a series of classes and workshops to help the staff learn more about their job and how they can operate more effectively.

14. This company has a policy that our managers should be committed to maintaining and improving the quality of their work, and also their skills and knowledge. We run courses, classes and workshops on a regular basis, and ensure that they are kept up to date with all the latest developments.

A dispute is an argument or _____. In business and commerce, there are usually two types of dispute.

The first of these is an _____ dispute, which is between an employer and an employer's representative, which in many cases is a _____. These are usually the result of disagreements over pay, conditions of work and unfair _____, including _____ (the laying-off of employees because they are not needed). The least favourable outcome of this type of dispute is usually industrial _____, often in the form of a _____ (where employees stop working). Alternatively, employees may stage a _____ (where they work at less than their normal speed). They may also adopt a _____ strategy, in which they strictly follow all the _____ of their contract, and obey other _____ to the letter*. They may also refuse to work. The result of this is usually _____ productivity for the company.

The second type of dispute is a _____ dispute, which is a disagreement between two businesses. This is usually the result of a _____ of contract (in which one or both sides fails to agree to, or _____, the terms and _____ of a contract drawn up between them). In extreme cases, this may result in _____ (in which one side brings a _____ against the other in a court of law), with the aim of getting financial _____, or of legally obliging the other side to abide by their contractual _____.

Disputes do not necessarily have to be settled in an imposed court case. _____ (an attempt by a _____ third party to make two sides in an argument agree) is often quicker, more _____ and less stressful for the parties involved.

(* If you do or obey something to the letter, you do it very thoroughly, without making any mistakes.)

Exercise 2. Complete the first part of each word in bold in sentences 1 – 19 with the second part in the box. Some of the words have already appeared in Exercise 1.

Earnings, rewards and benefits 2

Complete the text with appropriate words and expressions from the box. The first one has been done for you.

acceptance bonus	attendance bonus	basic	benefits	commissions comradeship	development	direct	duvet days	extras	extrinsic	fixed flexible	gainsharing	growth	incentive	indirect	insurance	intrinsic motivation	pensions	performance-related	premium bonus	production bonus
profit sharing	recognition	satisfaction	security	share	skill	status

Rewards for work fall into two main groups.

The first, and in many opinions the most important, is that of 1. direct or 2. _____ rewards. These are real, material rewards, and include 3. _____ pay (a guaranteed wage or salary paid by the hour, or on a weekly or monthly basis), and 4. _____ pay, which is linked to how well an employee or a group of employees works. This includes 5. _____ - money paid to a salesperson or group of salespeople which is usually a percentage of the sales made. Some companies also offer 6. _____ pay, usually given only to individual employees who work particularly well, or who make a significant contribution to the company. 7. _____, which is similar to this, is extra money paid to a group or company for increased productivity, and is often offered in order to increase 8. _____: it is also sometimes known as a 9. _____. If an employee takes less than the standard time to finish a task, s/he might receive a 10. _____. Some employers also offer an 11. _____ for employees who are very rarely absent from work. If an employer is particularly keen to recruit somebody, they might offer him / her an 12. _____ when s/he agrees to join the organisation. 13. _____, the practice of dividing profits among the employees, is another reward which is often offered.

In addition to payment, other rewards may be offered. These include 14. _____ (known informally as 15. _____) such as a company car, 16. _____, free meals, 17. _____ option schemes, holidays, health 18. _____ and 19. _____ (a new concept, especially common in the USA, in which an employee can call their office and say they do not feel like coming to work even though they are not ill). Benefits are usually 20. _____, which means that the employee is not able to choose what s/he gets, but some companies offer 21. _____ benefits, where the employee can choose from a menu of benefits on offer. 22. _____ plans, which offer employees increased rewards and benefits for good attendance, behaviour and productivity are becoming increasingly common.

The second group of rewards are 23. _____ or 24. _____. These are non-material, and include 25. _____ (people enjoy being in an important position or a position of authority), job 26. _____, the opportunities for personal 27. _____, the chance to learn a new 28. _____, and career 29. _____ opportunities. Safety and 30. _____ at work can also be included in this group, and for most employees, 31. _____ (being with a group of people you like and get on with) is also a very important reward.

Formal words

In a business / office environment, we often use 'formal' words, especially in our written English (letters, reports, contracts, etc). For example, instead of 'asked for advice', we might use 'consulted'.

We asked our accountant for advice about our tax.

becomes:

We consulted our accountant about our tax.

These 'formal' words are often verbs.

Exercise 1: Change the 'neutral' verbs and expressions in bold in sentences 1 – 15 to more 'formal' words using the verbs / expressions in the box. Each sentence requires only one word or expression. In most cases, you will need to change the form of the verb.

address	adjourn	adjust	administer	admonish	analyse	annul	appeal to appoint	assess at	assign	audit	avert	await	award

13. The HR director will talk about the new staff structure to the Board.
14. He chose to take early retirement.
15. The company has been given formal permission to sell spare parts.

Exercise 3: In this exercise, the words you need to replace those in bold are in brackets at the end of each sentence. Although they are in their correct form (e.g., the tense is correct), the letters are in the wrong order. Rearrange these letters to make words, and write them in the appropriate space in the grid below. If you do this correctly, you will reveal a word in the shaded vertical strip that can be used to replace the word in bold in number 13. To help you, some of the letters are in their correct space in the grid.

1. The management agreed to measures to keep experienced staff in the company. (ntreia)

This is my new 1. computer that sits on top of a table or desk (I've also got a 2. small computer which can be carried and held on your knees.) As you can see, there are six main 3. parts to it. The first is the 4. part of the computer that runs it and controls what it does, and this is the most important bit. It carries the 5. part that stores and controls the flow of information, including the 6. round thing that is used for storing information. Mine has a particularly high 7. capacity for storing information, which means that it's much faster than most. It came with its own 8. computer programs package (including one for 9. writing, checking and changing texts, one for 10. calculating in columns of figures, and one for 11. producing texts and pictures for magazines). You can also 12. put in other programs using the 13. sliding tray for carrying round, plastic, information-holding things, or the 14. hole for connecting computer parts to one another (into which you can put a 15. small plastic and metal object which can hold a lot of information).

The other five parts of the computer are the 16. screen that lets you see what your computer is doing, the 17. flat thing with the letters and numbers on it that let you control the computer, the 18. machine that lets you make copies of the documents that you create on your computer, the 19. device for making colour copies of photographs and other documents which you can put onto your computer and last but not least, the 20. device that you hold in your hand and move across your desk to control the cursor.

In my opinion, the best thing about modern information technology is the 21. network that links millions of computers from around the world. Once you've got yourself a 22. company that allows you access and a 23. program that finds information you can start using this. It's especially useful if you want to get information about something, go shopping or 24. transfer information, games, music, etc, onto your own computer. You can even 'talk' to other computer users in 25. special places where you can leave messages and get instant replies. If you have a particular interest in something, you can also visit 26. places on the computer where you can 'talk' to other people with the same interest.

Most companies have their own 27. special computer pages which you can look at. Let me 28. turn the computer on, enter my code and access the computer system, and I'll show you ours. OK, here we go. Oh no, another 29. advertisement that suddenly appears on the computer screen. How annoying. Let me just remove it. That's better.

Now, I can never remember the exact address of our company, so first of all I'll type it into the 30. program that helps you find the information you want. OK, A and C Black Publishing'. The computer identifies the 31. most important or main words and then gives me 32. connections to a list of possible sites. This one looks right: 'www.acblack.com'. That's the company's 33. officially registered website address. I'll click on that.

Bingo! Here's our 34. front page. You can use this to find the different books that we publish, and if you want you can even buy them 35. through the computer. Hmm, this book looks good: 'Check your English Vocabulary for Business and Administration'. Now, before I 36. exit this site, I'll just 37. add it to my list of favourites so that I can find it more quickly next time.

Perhaps the most important thing, however, is 38. a special electronic letter-sending facility, which allows you to communicate with people around the world in an instant. Let me quickly check mine. First of all, I need to enter my 39. special word that allows me to enter the system. That's it. Oh dear, nothing very interesting. Mainly a load of 40. unwanted advertising. I'll just 41. remove it: I don't particularly want to have a new home extension, pass my bank details to a "solicitor" in Nigeria or buy a pill that's guaranteed to improve my love life.

There's something here from one of our suppliers with a / an 42. document or file that has been sent with it. You have to be careful with these: sometimes they contain a 43. hidden routine placed in the program that destroys or corrupts files. If you open it, it can do all sorts of horrible things to your computer. We had one last week that kept 44. shutting down our system. We do have 45. something on our computer that protects against this sort of thing, but it's a bit out of date: we really ought to 46. bring it up to date.

Exercise 2: Test your knowledge with this quiz.

1. What is a JPEG and what would you use it for?
2. In computer terms, what is the difference between a file and a folder?
3. What is the difference between freeware and shareware?
4. You suspect that spyware is being used on your computer each time you use the Internet. What does this do?
5. What is the difference between the Internet, an intranet and an extranet?
6. A customer using your website to buy something has just checked her shopping basket and is now proceeding to checkout. What is she about to do?
7. What is a click-wrap agreement? Is it:
 - (a) a contract presented entirely over the Internet
 - (b) an agreement between two or more companies to share a single website
 - (c) an agreement between two or more companies to pass customer information to each other
 - (d) a contract that is sent over the Internet and then returned in the normal post

Jobs and positions

Exercise 1: Look at the list of different jobs in the box, and match each one with the person who is speaking in 1 – 15.

Assistant Manager	Chairman	Chief Executive Officer (CEO)
Company Director	Company Secretary	Girl Friday	Human Resources (HR)
Manager	Managing Director (MD)	Non-executive Director
Personal Assistant (PA)	Production Manager	Receptionist	Secretary
Technical Support Consultant	Trainer

1. Hello. Welcome to Wy-T Computers. Have you got an appointment? Good. Take a seat and I'll call up to her office. Would you like a coffee while you wait?
2. Good morning. My name is Angela Ranscombe, and I am responsible for my company's productive use of its workforce
3. Hello. I'm Hilary Hannah. I type letters, file documents, arrange meetings and so on, for the various people in my office.
4. Hi. My name's Sue Smith. I do a lot of small jobs in and around the office. If you want some filing done, some mail posted, or if you just want a cup of tea, I'm the one to ask!
5. Hello. My name's Adam Dent. I help customers who are having problems with our products. I spend most of my day on the phone.
6. I'm Anne Langsdale, and I've been appointed by the shareholders to help run the company.
7. Hello there. Don Brown. Nice to meet you. I make sure that the company is being run efficiently and effectively.
8. My name's Liz Hamley, and I suppose I'm the big cheese around here. Basically I'm the most important director in charge of the company.
9. I'm Judy Briers. I work directly for Liz Hamley, and for her alone. I perform various secretarial and administrative duties for her.
10. I'm Laurence Woodham. I'm a senior employee here, with director status and administrative and legal authority. This is a legal requirement for all limited companies in the UK.
11. Good morning. I'm Peter Feltham, and I preside over the company's board meetings.
12. And I'm Helen Brown. I attend board meetings, but only to listen and give advice. I cannot usually make decisions on behalf of the company.
13. Hi there. My name's Mark Searle, and I supervise the production process.
14. And I'm Bob Wheatley. I help Mark Searle.
15. My name's Ryan Briggs. I'm responsible for developing our employees' potential through courses and other staff development programmes.

Exercise 2: Instructions as above.

Accountant	Advertising Manager	Arbitrator	Area / Regional Manager
External Auditor	Foreman	Graduate Trainee	IT Consultant
Marketing Manager	Official Mediator	Official Receiver	Sales Representative
Security Guard	Telesales Manager	Trade Union Representative

1. Good morning. I'm Edward Saville. I control the company finances. Can't stop to talk: I need to get these tax forms completed.
2. I'm Don Prescott. I've been hired by the company's head office to check Mr Saville's figures. We're not sure that everything adds up.
3. My name's Mary Myers. I actually work in the company's other office in Birmingham, and am responsible for the company's operations there.
4. I'm Sarah Keats. I'm responsible for planning and controlling our marketing activities and budgets.
5. I'm Richard Giddings. It's my job to make sure consumers know all about our latest range of products.
6. Hello. I'm Bill Kennedy. I visit clients around the country and talk to them directly about our products.
7. Morning. Barry Ramp. I'm highly skilled, I'm told, so I've been put in charge of all the workers on the factory floor.
8. Andy Kelly. Hi. I'm just an ordinary worker on the factory floor, but I represent the workers in discussions with the managers about things like wages and conditions of employment.
9. My name's Jennie Bryant. I don't actually work for the company, but there's currently a dispute going on between the workers and the management regarding pay, so I've been brought in to try to sort things out.
10. I'm Joy Bell. I don't work for the company either, but I might be officially appointed to sort out the dispute mentioned above, and make a binding decision. This will only happen if Jennie Bryant is unable to resolve it.
11. Hello. I'm Tabitha Sutcliffe. I finished university last month, and I'm here to learn a bit about the company and how it operates. I'm hoping that they'll offer me a job.
12. I'm Sam Michaud. Has your hard-drive crashed? Is your printer jammed? Can't get on line? Don't worry, I'll get it sorted out.
13. Hi. I'm Naomi Yarnton. I'm in charge of the team who contact potential clients on the phone.
14. I'm Tony Preston. Don't tell anyone here, but the company's in a lot of trouble. I'm about to take it over, sell its assets and use the proceeds to pay off all the creditors.
15. My name's Eddie Jobsworth. Have you got ID? Sorry, can't let you go any further here without ID. You're going to have to leave. Now, please.

Look at the jobs and positions in the boxes in Exercises 1 and 2 again. Without referring back to the sentences, try to explain in your own words what each job involves.

On the next three pages you will see extracts from 11 different types of letter. Look at each extract carefully, then match it with one of the letter types from the list in the box below. Underline the key words or phrases which helped you to decide. Each type of letter can be matched with 5 extracts, and the sentences for each letter are in the same order as they would appear in real letters. There are 5 extracts that do not match any of the letter types.

- (A) Letter of introduction / application (B) Letter of apology (C) Invitation to interview
 (D) Letter of reference (E) Letter of rejection (F) Letter of appointment
 (G) Written warning (H) Letter of dismissal (I) Letter of resignation
 (J) Acknowledgement of resignation (K) Letter of complaint

1. Following the disciplinary interview which you attended on 12 June, I am writing to confirm the decision taken that you will be given a written reprimand under our Disciplinary Procedure.

2. Following your interview and our conversation yesterday, this letter is to confirm your post as Production Manager commencing 2 October.

3. Thank you for your application for the post of Production Manager at Graffix plc.

4. On 7 May, following persistent neglect of duties on your part, you were given a written warning in accordance with the Company's Disciplinary Procedure.

5. Thank you for your letter of 2 October detailing your recent unpleasant incident in our Witney branch.

6. I would like to apply for the post of Customer Relations Manager advertised in yesterday's Guardian.

7. I have known Jan Kelly since she started working with the company in 1999.

8. This will be placed in your personal record file, but will be disregarded for disciplinary purposes after a period of six months, provided your conduct reaches a satisfactory level.

9. This letter and the attached terms and conditions form the basis of your contract of employment.

10. As I told you yesterday, I have decided to hand in my notice, and this letter is to inform you of my decision to leave the company.

11. Thank you for your letter of 19 October telling us of your intention to leave the company.

12. In a letter of 18 June, you were advised that unless your conduct improved, you would be dismissed from your post.

13. Thank you for attending our interview sessions last week.

14. We are naturally most sorry that you should be leaving us, but I understand your reasons for doing so.

15. I am writing to express my dissatisfaction with the delay in your delivery of some products we ordered last month.

16. She came to work for this company as a Trainee in the production department, and rapidly moved up the scale to become Deputy Production Manager three years ago.

17. We would like you to come for a preliminary interview with our Production Director, James Mills.

18. As you can see from the attached printout of the order form, we placed this order via your website 2 weeks ago, on 13 January.

19. We notice from our records that Invoice SB/1097 has not been paid, and we would be grateful if you could settle it within 7 days.

20. I would like to reserve a single room (preferably on an upper floor) from 23 – 31 May inclusive.

21. We have spoken to the member of staff in question, and he has assured us that he was acting in accordance with company policy.

22. I am currently working as a customer care assistant for Pants2U, one of the country's biggest Internet suppliers of men's clothing, where I deal primarily with on-line customer queries.

23. I am delighted that you will be coming to work for us.

24. The notice period indicated in my contract of employment is six weeks, but you agreed during our conversation that in my case this could be reduced to four.

25. The nature of the unsatisfactory conduct was your continual lateness, persistent absenteeism, and neglect of duties on the shop floor.

26. We expect to see an improvement in your punctuality and attendance, and a more professional approach to your work by 30 June.

27. At the disciplinary hearing held on 16 October, it was decided that your performance was still unsatisfactory, and you had shown no inclination to improve.

28. Your terms and conditions clearly state that orders are processed, packed and sent on the same day, but so far we have received nothing.

29. I am sure you will find a very pleasant working environment here, and we look forward to welcoming you as a member of our team on 2 October.

30. The company you are joining has an excellent reputation, and I am sure you will be as happy there as you have been with us.

31. We would be grateful if you could send us a copy of your current catalogue and price list.

32. As I explained to you, I have been very happy working here, and shall be leaving with many regrets.

33. Unfortunately, on this occasion, I regret to tell you that your application has been unsuccessful.

34. These will be held at our Banbury office on 29 and 30 August, and should last about 30 minutes.

35. However, we take customer complaints very seriously, and I can assure you that we will look into this matter further.

36. I have however been offered a post at a substantially higher salary with another company.

37. She is a very able manager, and is particularly keen on keeping up to date with new technology.

38. You are clearly very well-motivated and have some excellent ideas, but the panel felt that overall you lacked sufficient experience.

39. I have forwarded your letter to our head office, and I will keep you informed as to any action that will be taken.

40. On behalf of Rosewain Ltd, I would like to apologise most sincerely, and hope that your experience does not put you off using our stores.

41. I would be grateful if you could call me to arrange a suitable time on one of those days.

42. I am therefore writing to confirm the decision that you will be dismissed, and that your last day of service with the company will be 2 November.

43. She has always worked well with other members of staff, has always been on time and has rarely missed work through illness.

44. This is in spite of several phone calls and emails to your office, and in spite of your repeated promises of immediate action.

45. I have noted that your last day of service with us will be 23 November, and I have passed this information to the HR Department to deal with.

46. However, I am now looking for a position with more responsibility, and one which allows me to work with customers face to face.

47. As requested, I enclose a recent CV outlining my qualifications and experience.

48. On behalf of NX Operations, I would like to wish you all the best in your search for a suitable position.

49. We will be sorry to see her leave, but I know that she is looking for a more challenging position.

50. Thank you for your letter of 15 April. We are pleased to enclose this year's catalogue and our current price list.

51. Thank you once again for the interest you have shown in our company.

52. If you have any special needs, especially concerning access, please let me know in advance.

53. Therefore, unless the goods are with us within 48 hours, we will have no option but to cancel our order and look elsewhere.

54. You have the right to appeal against this decision to the Production Director within seven days of receiving this letter of dismissal, in writing, giving your reasons.

55. Furthermore, as the prospects of further advancement are greater, I felt that this was an offer I felt I simply could not turn down.

56. If you would like any more information regarding my current position, or previous experience, please do not hesitate to contact me.

57. From your website brochure, please supply the following items: 10x8756/Ba and 15x9444/Aa. Please deliver with an invoice in triplicate to the following address:

58. On a personal level, I shall be particularly sorry to see you go; you have been an excellent manager, and I hope you will keep in touch.

59. In the meantime, if you have any queries about your new post, please do not hesitate to call me on extension 2340.

60. The likely consequence of insufficient improvement is dismissal.

Meetings and presentations

Look at this rather long-winded opening address from a company's Annual General Meeting (AGM) and fill in the gaps with words from the box. The first letter of each word is already in the text.

I'd like to 1. o_____ this meeting by 2. w_____ you all. It's good to see so many 3. p_____ here today - in fact, this is probably the best 4. a_____ we've had at a meeting for a long time - and I'd like to thank you all in advance for 5. s_____ me.

Well, we've got a lot on the 6. a_____ and I want to make as much 7. p_____ as possible in the next two hours or so. If we stick to the main 8. s_____, we should 9. g_____ everything and 10. a_____ all of our 11. g_____ and 12. o_____. I will 13. c_____ the meeting, as usual, but I really hope that you will all have something to 14. c_____, and if anything needs 15. c_____, please don't hesitate to 16. i_____ me (although not too often, I hope: the more 17. i_____ we can 18. a_____ today the better).

I'll be 19. b_____ several important 20. m_____ during the meeting, beginning with those that I feel should take 21. p_____, before 22. s_____ the main 23. p_____ and making 24. r_____. This will be followed by an 25. o_____ session where you can give me your 26. o_____. And I'm sure you will all be delighted to hear that after the meeting 27. c_____, there will be drinks and snacks for everyone.

Mr Barker will be taking 28. n_____ and keeping the 29. m_____ of the meeting, and I will be using these to write my 30. r_____ afterwards, so if anyone has any 31. c_____, I suggest you talk to him and not to me!

Now, before I get going, are there any 32. q_____ from the 33. f_____? No? Good. Right, well I'll begin.

The first point I want to 34. d_____ is next month's 35. c_____. As you know, the 36. v_____ we have chosen is the Royal Eynsham Hotel in Oxfordshire. We've invited several 37. s_____ to make 38. p_____ on various aspects of the trade, and we're expecting over 200 39. d_____ from our offices around Europe. Now, of course, there's always the possibility that some major players* won't be able to make it, so we need to make a 40. c_____ plan that we can 41. i_____ if things go pear-shaped...

(major players*: important people. Pear shaped*: if something goes pear-shaped, it goes wrong. This is an informal expression)

Money and financial issues

Exercise 1: Complete these definitions with words or expressions from the box. In each case, the words / expressions you need are connected in some way: for example, they might have a similar meaning, they might be related to the same business issue, or they might be opposites (but often used together when talking about the same topic). You will need to use one word from the box twice.

Phrasal verbs 1

Complete the sentences below with a verb from the left-hand box, and a particle from the right-hand box, to make phrasal verbs. The meaning of each phrasal verb is explained in brackets at the end of each sentence. Write your answers in the crossword grid on the third page (you will not need to put a gap between the verb and the particle). The first one has been done as an example.

Note that you will need to use some of the verbs and particles more than once, and in some cases you will need to change their form (for example, to past simple). Also note that in some cases, more than one answer may be possible, but only one will fit into the crossword grid.

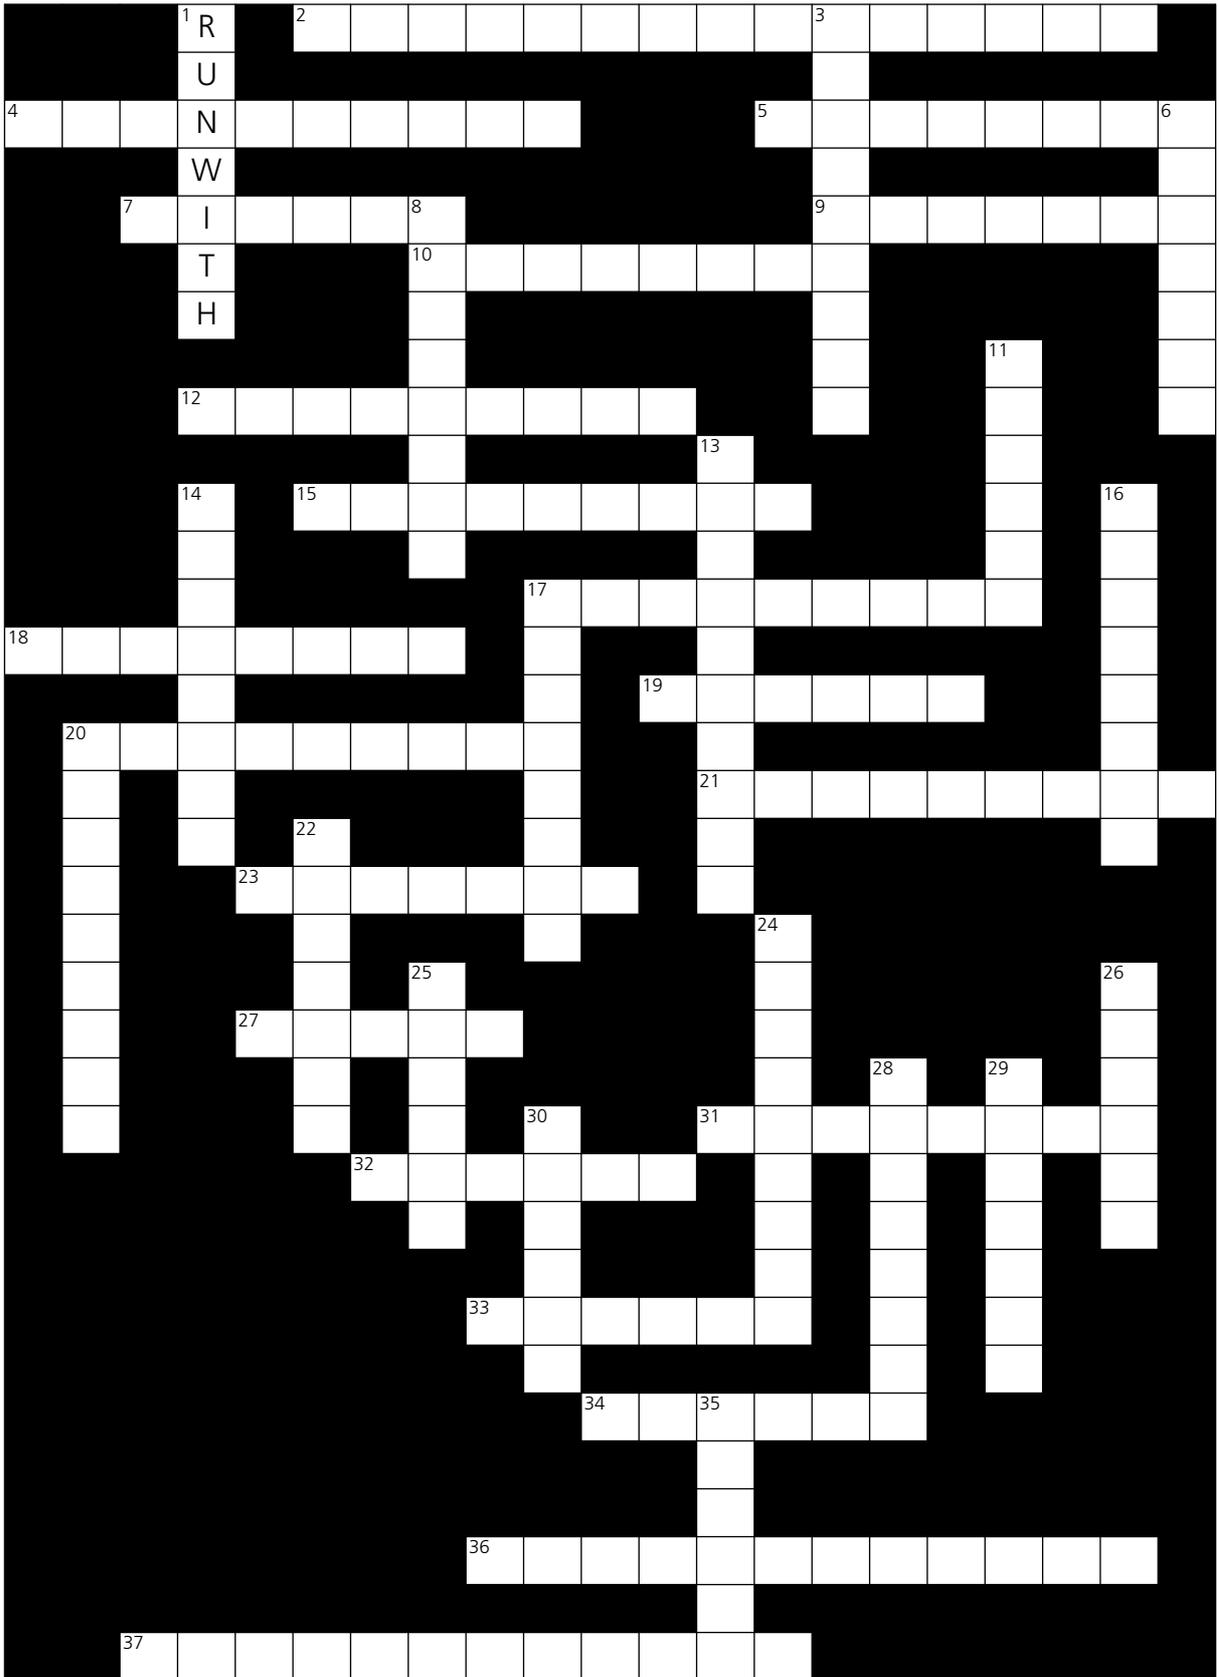

Verbs
back	break	bring	build	burn	call cancel	carry	cut	fall	fight	fill	find gear	get	give	hand	hold	opt	phase put	run	stand	take	turn

Particles

recruitment agency rewards situations vacant staff ~~vacancy~~

When a company or organisation has a 1. vacancy for a job, and it needs to 2. _____ a new member of 3. _____, it usually advertises the post. It does this 4. _____ (for example, in the company magazine or on a company notice board) or 5. _____, either in the 6. _____ or 7. _____ section of a newspaper, in specialist trade 8. _____ or through a 9. _____ which helps people to find employment. There are two main types of agency. The first of these is the 10. _____, usually found in a school or university. These work closely with employers to let potential employees know about the jobs that are on offer (also included in this category are 11. _____, which are provided by the state, and which can be found in most main towns in Britain and other countries). The second is the 12. _____, which are independent companies, and employers have to pay these agencies for each employee they successfully provide.

A job advertisement has to give an accurate 13. _____ of the job and what it requires from the 14. _____ (the people who are interested in the post). These requirements might include 15. _____ (academic, vocational and professional), work 16. _____ in similar lines of work, and certain 17. _____ (for example, it might say that you need to be practical, professional and have a sense of humour). The advertisement will also specify what 18. _____ (basic salary, commission, regular 19. _____, etc) and 20. _____ (paid 21. _____, free medical insurance, company car, etc) the company can offer in return. The advertisement must be careful it does not break employment laws concerning sex and racial 22. _____: some companies emphasise in their job advertisements that they are 23. _____ employers (or 24. _____ employers in the USA), which means that they will employ people regardless of their sex, skin colour, religion, 25. _____, etc.

application aptitude board candidates covering ~~CV~~ group-situational health screening in-basket introduction medical one-to-one pre-selection psychometric short-list turn down

The job advertisement will usually ask people interested in the post to send their 1. CV with a 2. _____ letter or a letter of 3. _____, or they will ask people to write or call for an 4. _____ form. The managers of the company will look at these, and go through a 5. _____ procedure, where they choose or 6. _____ applicants. They then prepare a 7. _____ of possible 8. _____: these are the people who will then be invited for an interview. Interviews usually take one of two forms. The first is the 9. _____ interview, with one applicant and one employer talking together. The second is the 10. _____ interview, with one applicant being interviewed by several people at once.

There may also be tests to see whether the applicant is suitable for the post. There are several of these, including 11. _____ tests (which consider psychological aspects of the applicant), 12. _____ tests, (which test the applicant's skills and knowledge, and his / her potential for acquiring more skills and knowledge), 13. _____ tests (where several applicants are put into an imaginary situation and decide how to deal with it), and 14. _____ tests (in which an applicant has to deal with a number of imaginary tasks similar to those s/he would face in the job). Applicants may also have to go for a 15. _____ test (also called a 16. _____) to see whether they are healthy enough to do their job.

appearance	circumstances	disposition	fixed-term	follow-up induction programme	intelligence	interests	offered	open-ended potential	probationary	references	seven-point plan	skills temporary

Many employers use a 1. seven-point plan when they recruit for a new post. They look at different aspects of the applicant to decide whether or not s/he has the correct 2. _____ for the job. These include physical 3. _____ (for example, is the applicant smart and well-presented?), educational qualifications, general 4. _____, special 5. _____, hobbies and outside 6. _____, mental and emotional 7. _____ and family 8. _____.

If a candidate gets through the above stages, s/he will be asked to provide 9. _____ from people who know him / her, and if these are positive, s/he is then 10. _____ the post. Before s/he actually starts working, s/he may go through an 11. _____ to learn more about the company and the post. Sometimes, s/he may be given a 12. _____ contract and have to complete a 13. _____ period, where the employers make sure that s/he is suitable for the job before being offered an 14. _____ or 15. _____ contract. After s/he has been with the company for a while, there might be a 16. _____ session, to assess how s/he is getting on in the post.

Recruitment 3: Contract of employment and job description

(36) Check facts to see if they are true. scenraiat
(38) Obtain or get information uciraqe
(40) Account for something that has happened. pixlnae

Note that using a word with a similar meaning to another word does not always mean using that word in exactly the same way. For example: you can 'prevent a strike from taking place' or you can 'avert a strike' (not 'avert a strike from taking place'); you can 'suggest something without saying it directly' or you can 'imply something' (not 'imply something without saying it directly'). In these examples, the words at the end are not necessary because their meaning is carried in the main verb. This is one reason why you should always record words in context, and with an example that shows how they are used, so that when you use them yourself, you use them correctly.

Also note that some of these verbs can be used in more than one way. For example, you can convey a message to someone, or you can convey goods from one place to another.

Exercise 1: In the following sentences and paragraphs, one of the words in each of the word pairs in bold is wrong and one is right. Identify the most appropriate word in each case. You will find this easier to do if you read each paragraph through first so that you have a better idea of what it is about (Note that the wrong words are real English words, but do not fit into the context of the sentence / paragraph).

Paragraph (A)

If there is a (1) despite / dispute between the management and the union in a company which cannot be (2) restored / resolved, and as a result a (3) strike / stroke looks likely, a third party might be called in to (4) abdicate / arbitrate.

Paragraph (B)

Three managers have been accused of (1) fraught / fraud, (2) dissemination / discrimination, (3) bullying / bumbling, (4) racy / racial (5) obtuse / abuse and (6) sectional / sexual (7) harassment / arrestment. As a result two of them have been (8) fried / fired and one has been (9) suspected / suspended without pay. The first two are claiming (10) unfair / unfaithful (11) dismissive / dismissal and plan to (12) appeal / appal. The third has applied for a job with the government.

Paragraph (C)

We would like to point out that there have been several (1) breaches / beaches of the company's 'No smoking' policy. We also have proof that several factory floor workers have been (2) neglecting / negotiating their duties, and there have also been several incidences of (3) insurrection / insubordination towards senior managers and intentional (4) damning / damage of company property. If this happens again, those responsible will be taken before a (5) disconcerting / disciplinary (6) broad / board and could face (7) instant / instance (8) dismal / dismissal. We would like to stress that the company has a (9) nil-tolerant / zero tolerance policy towards those who misbehave or break the rules.

Paragraph (D)

The management are fully aware that because of staff (1) shortness / shortages we are all (2) overstretched / oversubscribed at the moment, Mr Harrington, but we suggest that if you have a (3) grievance / grievous, you put it to us in writing rather than encourage your colleagues to hold a sudden (4) walkout / walkabout. We'd like you to treat this as a (5) verbal / verdant (6) warming / warning: the next time it happens, we will be obliged to ask for your (7) notice / note.

Paragraph (E)

What a terrible month! Sales have (1) droned / dropped by 40%, six employees have been made (2) recumbent / redundant, two senior managers have (3) resigned / resided, our main supplier has gone (4) bankrolled / bankrupt, someone has (5) haggled / hacked into the company website and given us a (6) virus / viscous (with the result that the entire computer system has (7) crashed / cracked), and the coffee machine is still out of (8) odour / order.

Paragraph (F)

One problem that many companies face is that of their employees (1) plateauing / plating. This often happens when there is a lack of opportunity for promotion. In such situations, employees may feel they are lacking sufficient (2) simulation / stimulation, and as a result could lose their (3) motivation / motorisation and display less (4) indicative / initiative than before. This in turn can lead to reduced (5) proclivity / productivity for the company concerned. A good manager should recognise the potential danger signs, and (6) implement / inclement any solutions that they think might help.

Paragraph (G)

An unhappy workforce should be easy for a good manager to spot. Basically, if staff (1) turnover / turnaround is high and staff (2) detention / retention is low, (3) conflict / conscript situations are frequent, there is frequent staff (4) absenteeism / abstention, poor (5) timeserving / timekeeping and (6) misconduct / misconception in the workplace, if (7) moral / morale seems generally low and if there is often the threat of (8) industrial / industrious action, it is time to act. The first thing to do is to (9) counsel / council employees and try to establish the cause of their (10) grievances / grief.

Exercise 2. Match the words in paragraphs A – G above with their definitions below.

1. The practice of staying away from work, often without a good reason.
2. Reaching a point where you cannot go any further in your job.
3. To give professional advice to someone on personal or professional issues.

Normally before an appraisal, employees fill in a self-appraisal form. Note that appraisals / assessments are normally knowledge-based (what the employee knows), and performance-based (how well the employee has worked, and the results s/he has achieved). Appraisals can be two-way, with the employee telling the company how s/he feels about it, and his / her role in it. A good company will always listen to the feedback it receives from its employees.

Performance-based appraisals often use a method known as BARS (behaviourally-anchored rating scales), where performance is based on a typical performance criteria set for each individual employee.

Many companies have adopted the practice of 360-degree appraisals. Colleagues above, below and at the same rank as the employee being appraised are asked to contribute their views on that employee before the interview takes place.

If an employee is not performing well in his / her current position, s/he might be given a remedial transfer. This means that s/he is transferred to a more suitable job. The informal expression is a turkey trot.

Note that many of the questions in this exercise might also be asked at an exit interview, when an employee is interviewed before s/he leaves the company. The questions would normally be expressed in the past tense, e.g., Did you think...?, Were you happy...?, etc. In addition to the questions in the exercise, exit interviews might also ask the employee how s/he felt about the rewards, benefits and services offered by the company (holiday pay, sick pay, pension scheme, health insurance, life assurance, loan facilities, educational assistance, sports and social facilities, refreshment facilities, HR services, etc).

Exercise 2:

- continuous personal development (also called continual personal development)
- assertiveness training
- experiential learning (also called learning by doing)
- adventure training
- in-tray learning
- team-building (an employee who works well as part of a team is called a team player)
- carousel learning

- modern apprenticeship
- an induction course
- off-the-job training (training which takes place on the company premises during work time is called on-the-job training or in-house / in-company training)
- open learning
- training needs analysis
- total quality management (TQM)

Note: a trainer is somebody who trains staff, a trainee is somebody who learns how to do something.

- fluctuated
- amended
- restructure

Exercise 2:

- exchanged
- adapt
- outsourced (if you outsource a part of a company, you move part of the company operations from your home country to another country, or from inside your company to another company)
- transformed
- renovated
- switched
- vary
- expanded
- dissolve (we could also use the phrasal verb break up)
- revised (revised prices are usually increased, but they can also go down, as in the first part of this example)

Business colours (page 8)

- (a) orange goods (= goods that are not bought as often as fast-moving items such as food products, but are replaced from time to time. (b) brown goods (= electrical equipment for home entertainment). (c) white goods (= machines that are used in the kitchen / utility room. White goods can also refer to household linen, such as towels and sheets). (d) yellow goods (= high-priced goods which are kept in use for a relatively long time, and so are not replaced very often). (e) red goods (= fast-selling convenience goods, especially food products).

Note that items such as televisions, stereo systems and even clothes could also be classified as yellow goods, especially if they are very expensive.

2. (d) red tape. 3. These informal expressions refer to bank accounts. If an account is in the red, it is showing a debit or loss (e.g., less than £0). If an account is in the black, it is showing a profit, or (if used to refer to a company) having more assets than debt. 4. black (we can also say hidden economy, parallel economy or shadow economy). 5. Green taxes. 6. False. A blue-chip investment is the purchase of low-risk shares in a company which is performing well. 7. (b) to blacklist (this can also be a noun: a blacklist). 8. Yes, provided it has received planning permission to do so. Compare greenfield site (= an area of land - usually in the country - that has not been built on before) with brownfield site (= an area of land, especially in an urban area, that had buildings on it in the past, and can be built on again). 9. A white-collar worker is someone who works in an office. A blue-collar worker is someone who works in a factory. 10. white-collar (see number 9 above). 11. Women. This is an informal and rather sexist expression for a job that is normally held by a woman (especially a young one). 12. a black market (often used in the expression a black market economy). 13. Probably a bad thing. Blue-sky ideas (also called blue-sky thinking) are extremely idealistic, ambitious, unrealistic and unconventional. 14. Unhappy: this is an informal expression for stocks and bonds that have no value. 15. All of these.

Contracts (pages 9–10)

Exercise 1:

Here is the complete text:

A contract can be defined as 'an agreement between two or more parties to create legal obligations between them'. Some contracts are made 'under seal': in other words, they are signed and sealed (stamped) by the parties involved. Most contracts are made verbally or in writing. The essential elements of a contract are: (a) that an offer made by one party should be accepted by the other; (b) consideration (the price in money, goods or some other reward, paid by one party in exchange for another party agreeing to do something); (c) the intention to create legal relations. The terms of a contract may be express (clearly stated) or implied (not clearly stated in the contract, but generally understood). A breach of contract by one party of their contractual liability entitles the other party to sue for damages or, in some cases, to seek specific performance. In such circumstances, the contract may be voided (in other words, it becomes invalid).

Exercise 2:

1. 1. parts = parties 2. False 3. C
2. 1. terminator = termination 2. True 3. obligated / required
3. 1. un-negotiable = non-negotiable 2. True (amend = change or alter. The noun is an amendment. You can make an amendment) 3. oral / spoken / implied / understood

(Note that if a contract is on paper, it is called a written contract)

4. 1. in breach of = in breach of (breach can also be a verb: to breach a contract) 2. abide by (in paragraph 1)

3. False (they have only broken one of the clauses, or parts, of the contract)

5. 1. period of notification = period of notice 2. agreement 3. True

6. 1. anointment = appointment 2. False (amalgamation comes from the verb to amalgamate: to join and become one. We can also say merger, from the verb to merge)

3. False (he is not allowed to have a controlling interest in the company, so his ability to buy stocks is restricted)

4. None (third parties are people or groups other than Mr Wiley and the amalgamation of AKL Publishing and Berryhill Books)

Dispute resolution (pages 11–12)

Exercise 1:

Here is the complete text:

A dispute is an argument or disagreement. In business and commerce, there are usually two types of dispute.

The first of these is an industrial dispute, which is between an employer and an employer's representative, which in many cases is a trade union. These are usually the result of disagreements over pay, conditions of work and unfair dismissals, including redundancy (the laying-off of employees because they are not needed). The least favourable outcome of this type of dispute is usually industrial action, often in the form of a strike (where employees stop working). Alternatively, employees may stage a go-slow (where they work at less than their normal speed). They may also adopt a work-to-rule strategy, in which they strictly follow all the terms of their contract, and obey other regulations to the letter. They may also refuse to work overtime. The result of this is usually decreased productivity for the company.

The second type of dispute is a commercial dispute, which is a disagreement between two businesses. This is usually the result of a breach of contract (in which one or both sides fails to agree to, or abide by, the terms and conditions of a contract drawn up between them). In extreme cases, this may result in litigation (in which one side brings a suit against the other in a court of law), with the aim of getting financial compensation, or of legally obliging the other side to abide by their contractual obligations.

Disputes do not necessarily have to be settled in an imposed court case. Mediation (an attempt by a disinterested third party to make two sides in an argument agree) is often quicker, more cost-effective and less stressful for the parties involved.

* Disinterested has a similar meaning to impartial (see exercise 2).

Exercise 2:

1. alternative 2. litigation (the verb is to litigate, the adjective is litigious) 3. voluntary / consent 4. impartial / mediator (the verb is to mediate) 5. facilitator 6. joint

Exercise 3:

1. retain 2. specify 3. redeployed 4. consulted 5. undertaken 6. reinstated 7. inquiring (note that in this sentence, inquiring must be followed by into: 'We are inquiring into the background of the new supplier'. Inquiring can also be written enquiring) 8. consented 9. notified 10. briefed 11. outlined 12. upgraded

The word in the shaded vertical strip (and the one that can be used to replace the words in bold in number 13) is apportioning.

Business idioms (page 18–19)

Exercise 1:

1. goes belly up 2. rat race 3. turkey trot 4. a people churner 5. an ohnosecond 6. a dogsbody 7. a sickie 8. work rage (also called desk rage when applied to people working in an office) 9. out of the loop 10. a cushy number 11. got the boot 12. pencil-whip 13. a helicopter view 14. eye service 15. a mushroom job 16. a Mickey Mouse job 17. swinging the lead 18. a lemon

Exercise 2:

1. stress puppy (= someone who seems to enjoy being under pressure, but still complains about it) 2. shape up or ship out (= improve or leave) 3. empty suit (= someone - usually in a fairly high position - who doesn't really contribute very much to a company or organisation) 4. kiss up to (= to be very nice and polite to someone in a position of power. It is a negative expression. We can also say schmooze up to or suck up to) 5. dead wood (= the employees who are losing a company money. We can use the expression to cut out the dead wood in this context) 6. glad hand (= to shake hands with people. We can also use the expression press the flesh) 7. seagull manager (= someone who is brought in to a company to deal with a problem or make changes, achieves nothing, annoys everyone and then leaves) 8. ear candy (= kind words of praise and encouragement) 9. wombat (an acronym: waste of money, brains and time. Basket case - see number 14. below - could also be used in this sentence if speaker B is talking about the boss) 10. dumbsizing (= to dismiss the best workers in a company. It is an adaptation of the word downsizing. If a company dismisses those workers who do not contribute much and are losing the company money, we could say that they smartsized) 11. happy camper (= someone who enjoys their job, although the expression is often used ironically) 12. wiggle room (= time to think before making an important decision) 13. busymeet (= a business meeting) 14. basket case (= a company or a person who is in such bad condition that they are beyond help) 15. trim the fat (= dismiss / lay off of those employees who do not work well or are surplus to requirement) 16. cash cow (= a product or service that makes a lot of money with a minimum amount of advertising)

45. anti-virus software 46. update (it)

Exercise 2:

1. A JPEG is a method of reducing, or compressing, computer files that contain images so that they can be sent quickly by email over the Internet (it is also the name of a file that is produced by this method) 2. A file is a set of information or a document that is stored under a particular name on a computer, a folder is a group of related programs or documents stored together on a computer 3. Freeware is free software available on the Internet, shareware is similar, but users are asked to make a voluntary monetary contribution for its use, or are encouraged to buy a more advanced version 4. Spyware is computer software that secretly records the websites you visit on your computer, and this information is then used by companies who try to sell you things 5. The Internet is a computer system, or network, that allows people in different parts of the world to exchange information (using websites and sending emails, etc). An intranet is a computer network that can only be used within a company or organisation. An extranet is similar to an intranet, but also allows access by others associated with that company or organisation (for example, suppliers, buyers, etc) 6. She has finished shopping and is now going to pay 7. (a) The user 'signs' the contract by clicking on a box or boxes to show that he / she agrees with the terms and conditions 8. Internet Service Provider 9. (b) 10. (c) (A company that only does business on the Internet is called a dot.com business. A company that does not have an Internet shopping facility is known as a bricks and mortar business) 11. Frequently asked questions 12. (a) 13. Business to business 14. An auto response 15. (b) UCE = unsolicited commercial email 16. Broadband is a class of transmission system that allows large amounts of data to be transferred at high speed over the Internet; an ISDN line is a digital telephone network that supports advanced communication services and can be used for high-speed data transmission 17. (b) 18. personal identification number, a private code number that only the user knows (also required when using a credit / debit card in a cash machine or in a shop) 19. They are forms of on-screen advertising 20. No. An anti-site, also called a hate-site or gripe-site, is a website set up by an unhappy (ex-) customer so that they can publicly say bad things about your company, and encourage other people to do the same 21. A hacker is someone who uses a computer to connect to other people's computers secretly and often illegally, so that they can find or change information. The verb is to hack 22. A firewall protects your computer or network, or certain files and folders on that computer / network, from being illegally accessed by a hacker (see number 21 above) 23. If a company is Amazoned, it has lost a large share of its market to a competitor because it has failed to develop an effective business strategy (especially if it has failed to utilise IT technology). This is an informal word, named after the Internet company Amazon.com, who very quickly took a large share of the book market before expanding into other areas 24. (e) Also called a heavy site. This is an informal expression 25. Phishing (pronounced like fishng) is an informal word which refers to sending emails that are designed to trick people into giving away personal information, such as bank account details. This information is then used to steal from those people. More advanced phishers set up bogus websites that look like real websites (especially ones that look like bank websites) that try to trick the unwary or gullible 26. You would probably feel rather unhappy, especially if you were the company's website manager: a cobweb site is a website that contains a lot of out-of-date information, and if it looks like an angry fruit salad, it has an interface that is particularly unattractive to look at 27. Spider food is an informal expression that refers to words that are embedded in a web page to attract search engines. As a result, your website would receive a lot of visitors 28. You are if you were able to answer most of the questions in this exercise: someone who is buzzword compliant is familiar with the latest computer and IT terms and expressions. It is an informal expression.

Jobs and positions (pages 23-24)

Letters (pages 25-27)

(A): 6, 22, 46, 47, 56 (B): 5, 21, 35, 39, 40 (C): 3, 17, 34, 41, 52 (D): 7, 16, 37, 43, 49 (E): 13 (this could also fit in F), 33, 38, 48, 51 (F): 2, 9, 23, 29, 59 (G): 1, 8, 25 (this could also fit in H), 26, 60 (H): 4, 12, 27, 42, 54 (I): 10, 24, 32, 36, 55 (J): 11, 14, 30, 45, 58 (K): 15, 18, 28, 44, 53

The following extracts do not match any of the letter types in the box:

19 (a reminder from a company to a client to pay them), 20 (a letter or email reserving a hotel room), 31 (a letter or email requesting something), 50 (a covering letter or note sent with a catalogue and price list), 57 (an order from a client for some products).

Usage notes:

- Begin all letters with Dear + the recipient's family name (if you know it), or with Dear Sir / Madam if you don't.
- If you are not sure if a woman is married or single, begin it Dear Ms + her family name (this is now the accepted form of address even if you do know whether she is married or not).
- Letters that begin with a name (e.g., Dear Mr Brown, Dear Ms Smith) end with Yours sincerely. Letters that begin with Dear Sir / Madam end with Yours faithfully.
- Use the active rather than the passive voice (for example, instead of "Your order has been received", write "We have received your order". Instead of "With reference to...", write "I refer to...", etc).
- Ordinal numbers (for dates, e.g., the first of November, the seventh of April) are sometimes followed by letters (e.g., 1st November, 7th April), but this is less common now than it used to be. 1 November, 7 April, etc, is more common.
- You should avoid using abbreviated dates (e.g., 12/11/05) in business letters.
- Note that modern business letters should be brief. The message you want to communicate should be done in the most economical way, while remaining clear and polite (remember this acronym: KISS - Keep it short and simple)

Contracts of employment can be temporary, permanent, short term, long term, fixed-term or open-ended. Contracts contain express terms (those that both the employer and the employee agree on), and implied terms (these are not stated in the contract, but impose obligations on both the employer and the employee). Some contracts may contain a restrictive covenant (a clause which prevents an employee from doing something. For example, it may prevent the employee working for another similar company when s/he finishes work in his / her current company). Contractual liability is a legal responsibility for something as stated in a contract.

Exercise 2:

Here is the complete conversation:

James: Hi, Sarah. How's the new job going?
 Sarah: Oh, not too bad. I'm still trying to find my feet, though.
 James: Tell me a bit about it.
 Sarah: Well, my official job title is Regional Production Manager, which means that my main accountability is to supervise the work of the production department.
 James: Where are you based?
 Sarah: Most of my work is done at the head office in central London, but I also have to spend time at our various branches and departments in the area. There are several of these in the South and South-East.
 James: Who do you report to?
 Sarah: The Central Production Manager. Tom Atkinson, his name is. I've only met him a couple of times, but he seems nice enough. We meet once a month to consult each other on major issues. We evaluate the current state of production, and I recommend any changes that I think need to be made

James: And what about the hours?

Sarah: Pretty typical for this kind of job. I'm on a full-time contract, which means I work from Monday to Friday, nine to five. And occasionally I have to go in at the weekend, too. I get 21 days leave a year, plus bank holidays.

James: Not bad. And your salary? If you don't mind me asking?

Sarah: No, not at all. I get £35000 per annum, plus expenses, commission for reaching targets, overtime pay and so on.

James: That's pretty good for a job that just involves checking things are running smoothly.

Sarah: Well, there's more to my job than just that. I do have several other key responsibilities.

James: Such as?

Sarah: First of all I have to agree product specifications with sales departments and time schedules with the stock control department. Then I need to ensure that the product is manufactured according to agreed specifications, and I also have to inspect the quality of the finished product.

James: That's all?

Sarah: No. I also need to negotiate with our suppliers on prices for our base materials, visit those suppliers on a regular basis to check the quality of the base materials...

James: Do you have a car for that?

Sarah: Oh yes, the company provides me with one. I also have to deal with problems as they arise on a day-to-day basis, and produce regular sales reports for the Directors.

James: Anything else?

Sarah: Well, on top of everything else, I'm responsible for managing 10 machinists, 3 trainees, 2 cleaners and 2 security guards.

James: That sounds like a lot of work for one person. Can you delegate any of it?

Sarah: Unfortunately no. I have to do it all myself!

Note that, sometimes, abbreviations use letters that are not used at the beginning of the word, but are instead pronounced like the word itself. For example, 'CUL' means 'See you later'. Numbers are also used to represent words or parts of words. For example, 'UR2L8' means 'You are too late'.

- When we say telephone numbers, we usually speak each number individually. For example: 020 7837 7324 is usually spoken as 'Oh two oh / seven eight three seven / seven three two four'.
- If a number is doubled, we normally say 'double' before it. For example: 0845 601 5884 is usually spoken as 'Oh eight four five / six oh one / five double eight four'.
- If a telephone number has one or more zeros after a number, and no numbers after it, we often say it as one number. For example: 0800 800 151 is often spoken as 'Oh eight hundred / eight hundred / one five one'.
- Six-figure numbers are becoming increasingly spoken as three separate numbers. For example: 0800 201215 is spoken 'Oh eight hundred / twenty / twelve / fifteen'.

Trade (pages 57–58)

Here are the complete sentences, with the answers in bold.

- When you bring goods into a country you import them. When you send them out of a country you export them.
- A group of manufacturers or suppliers who visit another country to increase their sales there is known as a trade delegation.
- Cargo - also called freight - is a general word for goods which are transported in a ship, plane etc. It is usually carried in a container (= a very large metal case of a standard size).
- A bill of lading is a list of goods being transported, which the transporter gives to the person sending the goods, to show them that the goods have been loaded. The person receiving the goods should receive a packing list, showing them the goods that they should be receiving.
- A letter of credit - often abbreviated to L/C - is a document issued by a bank on behalf of a customer authorising payment to a supplier when conditions specified in the document are met.
- A pro-forma invoice is an invoice sent to a buyer before the goods are sent, so that payment can be made (or so that goods can be sent to a consignee who is not the buyer).
- COD is a payment which is made for goods when they arrive. COD stands for cash on delivery.
- A group of goods sent for sale by road, sea or air is called a consignment.
- CFR refers to the price a buyer has to pay for goods which have to be transported. It stands for cost, insurance and freight.
- Goods sent by air are called airfreight. Goods sent by sea are called seafreight.
- FOB stand for free on board. It refers to the price a buyer pays a seller for goods. The price includes all the seller's costs until the goods are on the ship, plane, etc, for transportation.
- Import duty - also sometimes called an import levy - is a tax which has to be paid on goods coming into a country. A customs tariff is a list of those taxes that must be paid.
- A person or company which arranges shipping and customs documents is called a forwarding agent.
- If tax on imported goods is not paid, those goods may be impounded (in other words, they are kept in a secure warehouse at or near the port of entry until that tax is paid).
- A clearing agent arranges the import and delivery of goods at their port of destination.

*1: In Britain, the Working Time Directive of 1998 (based on guidelines set by the European Union) sets out the following regulations: Employees should work no more than 48 hours a week, and should receive a minimum of 4 weeks' paid leave a year. They should have a weekly rest period of at least 24 consecutive hours, a daily break of at least 20 minutes for every six hours worked, and a daily rest period of 11 consecutive hours. There are different directives for some groups (e.g., pilots, bus drivers, doctors, etc) whose jobs are more stressful, demand greater concentration, or whose performance might affect other people.

*2: Work-life balance is the subject of widespread debate on how to allow employees more control over their working arrangements so that they have more time for their outside activities and responsibilities, but in a way that will still benefit the organisations they work for. Flexible working practices and family-friendly policies are two areas of work-life balance that are frequently the focus of debate.
